New York Stock Market

New York, October 4.—Further irregularity prevailed to-day in the stock market, which failed to develop a definite trend. The elements of reaction were again conspicuous. Room traders and speculators as a class favored the short side of the market, and superficially, at least, the operations suggested the diminution of the demand for bear covering had not been followed by any real buying. Opening prices were irregular. Within the first few minutes the market fell off materially, and during the morning ranged well below yesterday's final quotations. United States Steel sold off nearly two points, and some of the standard railroad issues almost as much. In the road issues almost as much. In the afternoon the market slowly recovered, only to fall back toward the close.

only to fall back toward the close. The pressure against St. Paul was continued, and this stock fell below 105 for the first time since 1905. The recent acute weakness of this issue, which has given rise to conjectures as to the stability of the dividend rate, was partially explained by the appearance of the August report of the road. It showed a decrease of more than $5.00,000 in gross receipts and $459,000 in the net. The Puget Sound reported a small shrinkage in operating income.

reported a small shrinkage in operating income. No.

A few issues developed pronounced strength. Western Union made the most conspicuous gain, and it was reported that the stock soon would be placed on a 4 per cent, dividend basis. Canadian Pacific responded to brisk buying, which was said to be for foreign account. Atchison, Northern Pacific and New York Central worp firm, reflecting their recent reports of earnings.

moderately here. Foreign conditions, so far as they had to do with developso far as they had to do with develop-ments on the war, were not calculated to make for any degree of optimism. Advices from Paris conveyed the inti-mation that the October settlements, which begin there to-morrow, probably would be accomplished without strain. It is none the less apparent that the snoney markets of Europe are conserv-

Is Your House in Order?

Most men leave their house and their affairs in disorder. That is to say, they die intestate. Their property is at once involved, and the aid of the courts is often invoked to straighten matters out.

Some men leave directions with a personal friend. Sometimes the friend dies or makes a mistake, and the widows and orphans suffer the consequences.

It will cost you no more to have this strong institution carry out the provisions of your will, when the time comes, than it would to have an individual do the same thing.

The life of this institution is PERPETUAL. It has large resources, and well trained men handle its affairs. This safeguards your interests and guarantees you against mistakes or dishonesty.

Come in and talk the matter over,

STORM BREWING OVER RYAN'S PLAN

Method of Ending Tobacco Trust Déclared Attempt to Evade Court's Order.

New York, October 4 .- A big storn is brewing over the plan which Thomas F. Ryan and his associates in the to-bacco trust propose to submit to the court as a basis for the reorganization of that combination in accordance with the decree of the United States Supreme Court.

States Supreme Court.

The details of the proposed plan were made public in connection with a petition filed by the R. P. Richardson, Jr., Tobacco Company, of Reidsville, N. C., one of the subsidiaries of the trust, which goeks to have its independence restored.

The proposition is denounced by the Richardson concern as iniquitous and as a flagrant attempt on the part of the present controllers of the trust, Ryan and others, to deceive the court, the public and all the security holders outside of those in the Ryan clique.

Certain of the counsel for the government, it is understood, hold opinions similar to those of the Richardson, but Attorney-General Wickersham, at the secret conferences with the lawyers for the trust, has appeared to lean toward the other side, and it is said may suggest to the court that the plan, if presented, be utilized as a basis for the dissolution of the combination.

In the Latter event it is openly de-

Army Officers Inclined to Hold Those

Next Year Along Different Lines.

Washington, October 4.—The joint manoeuvres of the army and the National Guard next year promise to be on very different lines from the manoeuvres of 1910, or preceding years, if Congress approves the War Department's estimates of around a million and a half dollars for the purpose. Many of the ranking officers of the army experienced in these joint manoeuvres, have come to the conclusion that little real good is accomplished by the present system of chasing a lot of raw National Guard recruits through a camp of regulars,
with the opportunity for training amited to ten days or a fortnight at
the outside.

It has been found that except in the case of the city militia organizations most of the companies come into the joint camps undermanned or with their ranks filled with young lads, evidently below the proper age for recruitment, and added simply for the necessary figure to entitle it to admission.

Such material is entirely unsuitable
for manoeuvre purpose of swelling the company to

admission.

Such material is entirely unsuitable for manoeuvre purposes, lacking as it does the initial training that should be had in armortes and on the drill grounds.

does the initial training that should be had in armories and on the drill grounds.

A proposition which commands consideration is that instead of having a large maneeuvre camp to be maintained at one point for three months a practical turn be given to the manoeuvres by unexpected calling out a complete division to be mobilized, perhaps, in each section of the country to test the elarticity and responsiveness of the National Guard.

Officers of the organized militia say that a proposition to unexpectedly call out the National Guard and send such organizations to a division camp for a stay of any length of time would be impracticable. It is explained that National Guardsmen earn their living in civilian pursuits, and cannot afford to walk away from their means of livelihood "unexpectedly."

Relatives of Electrician, Killed at Becchwood. Assert Negligence.
Newport R. I., October 4.—When Colonel John Jacob Astor came to Newport last month aboard his steam yacht Noma to be married to Miss Force.
Deputy Sheriff Frank P. King served Colonel Astor with a summons in a suit for $30,000 for the death of Eugene
P. McCrohan, who, while installing a telephone service at Beechwood, was killed by an electric shock on July I. killed by an electric shock on July 1, 1910.

Yesterday in the Superior Court there was filed a declaration by the pirintiff, in which the mother, sisters and brothers are concerned, for which a jury trial is requested. The document in part states that McCrohan was em-

connections, and was so engaged at Beechwood at the invitation of Colonal Astor, whose duty it was to exercise reasonable care to provide a safe and suitable place for him to work in.

It is alleged that Colonel Astor did not use reasonable care, in that an electric switch, wires and connections, through which a high voltage of electricity ran, were negligently exposed, and, being insufficiently insulated, caused the death of McCrohan.
